

C            eo    F            C                            eo                            F            C    G

C            eo    F            C                            eo                            F            C    G

Raise your hands up to the sky and block the sun rays from coming down

C                    eo            F            C                            eo                    F    C    G

The waves are up the surf is mine and we've got the time

C            eo            F            C                            eo            F            C    G

Come on down to the shoreline and let's waste some time

am            em    F                    G

Your best thoughts come out with wine

C                    eo            F            C                            eo            F            C    G

The scorching summer sun returns we'll have time to unwind

C                    eo            F                    C                            eo            F            C    G

Daydream souls are drinking more wine to escape the grind

C            eo    F            C                            eo                            F            C    G

Raise your hands up to the sky and block the sun rays from coming down

C                    eo            F            C                            eo                    F    C    G

The waves are up the surf is mine and we've got the time

C            eo            F            C                            eo                            F    C    G

Winter time when the trees are bare & the mighty west winds aren't rare

am            em    F                    G

Head on out on rocks and climb

C                    eo            F            C                            eo                    F    C    G

The grass is high on the dunes the burned out souls will be here soon

C    eo                    F    C                            eo                    F    C    G

No matter if there's overcast this is where you can let it all out

C            eo    F            C            eo            F            C